4. PAST PERFECT CONTINUOUS TENSE

The past perfect continuous tense denotes the length of any past action that continued till the time of reference in the past. The tense tells us about the continuity of the longer action among the two acts in the past.

Sentence Type	Sentence Structure	Examples
Affirmative (Yes-statement)	S + had + been + V ^s + Obj.	The players had been running for a long time.
Negative (No-statement)	S + hadn't + been + V ^s + Obj.	The players hadn't been running for a long time.
Interrogative (Yes/No question)	Had + S + been + V ^s + Obj. + ?	Had the players been running for a long time?
Interrogative (Wh-question)	Wh-word + had + S + been + V ^s + Obj. + ?	Why had the players been running for a long time?
Interrogative negative (negative question)	Hadn't + S + been + V ^s + Obj. + ? Or Had + S + not + been + V ^s + Obj. + ?	Hadn't the players been running for a long time? Or Had the players not been running for a long time?
